INFORMATION GUIDE

BEAUTIFUL & UNIQUE ACCOMMODATION

RAW Travel has carefully hand-picked quality accommodation for you to enjoy on the Spanish, Le Puy and Portuguese Coastal Camino routes.

We offer a mix of comfortable, historic and intimate accommodations in the most excellent locations.

Wherever possible, we use historic hotels and avoid modern properties. Our places to stay have ambience and character to enjoy, with the most welcoming hosts who deliver comfort and outstanding service.

All of the accommodations that we book have en-suite bathrooms. We do not use albergues or dorm properties on our trips.

Breakfast is included at the properties on all of our itineraries.

The type of accommodation available is different on each Camino route, but all of the places we book offer a unique, welcoming and memorable experience.

Having your quality accommodation pre-booked ensures that you will have a good night's rest and get the most out of your Camino adventure.

SPANISH CAMINO

Accommodation on the Spanish Camino offers you the chance to stay in some of the world's most elegant and historic hotels. There is a great deal of variety on this Camino, ranging from small family run hotels to boutique luxury properties.

In some smaller places we use Casa Rurales, which are like bed and breakfasts. Typically, these are family homesteads that have been renovated and give you an authentic Spanish experience, staying with a family and enjoying their wonderful hospitality.

Some hotels are located off the Camino trail. In these cases, you will be picked up from the Camino and dropped back in the morning to continue your walk.

Paradors are dotted on the Spanish Camino in four locations: Santo Domingo La Calzada, Leon (closed for renovations until 2019), Villa Franca Del Bierzo and Santiago de Compostela.

Paradors are historical buildings of significance such as monasteries or hospitals that have been refurbished into luxury boutique hotels. They provide a once-in-a-lifetime experience with first-class service, excellent facilities and gourmet dining.

PORTUGUESE COASTAL CAMINO

Our accommodation options on the Portuguese Coastal Camino range from clean and comfortable hotels to impressive historic hotels and Paradors.

This Camino crosses Portugal and Spain. In the Portuguese section of the walk you will find traditional Portuguese hotels, which are typically bright and colourful with lots of character. Warm and friendly hosts are there to greet and look after you, and you will enjoy central locations, excellent facilities and comfort.

Once you enter the Spanish section of the Portuguese Coastal Camino there are many beautiful manor houses that have been converted into hotels. These are commonly named 'Pazos'.

The Pazos are often located off the Camino trail, so the owners of the hotels will collect you and drop you back to the trail in the morning.

This Camino also has a couple of Paradors. The Parador in Baiona is one of the most impressive Paradors of Spain, housed in a Galician mansion with astonishing views across the Atlantic Ocean.

The Parador in Pontevedra, which was once a residence of the counts of Maceda, is beautifully decorated with antiques and valuable furniture.

LE PUY CAMINO

Our accommodation on the Le Puy Camino is homely and comfortable, offering a mix of hotels and farm stays. All are fresh and clean with welcoming hosts and staff. The hotels on Le Puy Camino are generally smaller than those on the other Camino routes.

Many of the guesthouses offer only a couple of rooms. Generally, the size of the accommodation depends on the size of the village or town.

The majority of the accommodations are located in the villages and close to the Camino trail, so they are easy to find on foot upon arrival. The owners are very courteous; they will always be there to welcome you and provide assistance.

While being more modest than the accommodation on the other Caminos, the Le Puy Camino offers wholesome comfort in great locations for you to relax and enjoy.
